

WHO INVENTED AUGMENTED REALITY?

Augmented reality technology was invented in 1968, with Ivan Sutherland's development of the first head-mounted display system. However, the term 'augmented reality' wasn't coined until 1990 by Boeing researcher Tim Caudell. The technology has come a long way with a growing list of use cases for AR.

